MONEY AND STOCKS.

New York Financial Market. MEW YORK, April 22.-Money-On call continnes easy at 1@1% per cent, closing at 1 per cent. Prime Mercantile Paper-i@5 per cent.

Bar Silver-10734. Foreign Exchange-Quiet and steady. Actual business, 48664489. Government Bonds were quiet and steady and anotatations are unchanged. There were sales on the 4's at 12234.

Some of the State bonds were dull and generally unchanged.

The railway bond market was more active today and prices show more violent fluctuations, but the closing prices this evening are higher in most cases. The total sales were $1,181,000, an increase of $217,000.

The stock market has been very dull and irregular to-day. Opening prices showed slight gains in quotations over the figures of last evening, but a decline set in almost immediately thereafter and most stocks continued weak until early in the afternoon. An upward movement in grangers, which began about 1 o'clock, was followed by a general improvement in the whole list, and the market continued strong but dull to the close, which was or near the best price for the day for Gould stocks and the grangers, but considerably lower for Vanderbilts and the coal stocks.

The market gives abundant evidence of being remarkably well supported, and leading buil operators tals confidently of much better prices in the near future. The sales were 175 000 shares, a de-cline from yesterday of 57,700 shares, and a per cent of to-day's business consisted of transactions in St. Paul, Union Pacific, Mail, Northwestern, New York Central and Lake Shore. The grangers were prominent for their weakness in the forenoon and for the remarkable strength displayed in the afternoon. Northwestern closed at a net gain of % per cent. It is generally understood that the Pacific Roads have both consented to the extension of Pacific Mail to the 1st. A few stocks did not go below the opening quotation, notably, Missouri Pacific, which closed 1% higher. Manitoba closed with an advance of 156; Omaha Consolidated is up 11/2 and the preferred 2 per cent. Missouri; Kansar and Texas shows a net gain of he per cent., and Rock Island 1/2 per cent.

The sales of stocks to day aggregate 1.178,045 shares, including the following: Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 8,800; Lake Shore, 14,500; Missouri Pacific, 5,000; Northwestern, 22,000; New York Central, 22,800; Pacific Mail, 25,700; St. Paul, 28,000 and Union Pacific, 27,400.

COMMERCIAL.

There is a perceptible improvement in the jobbing trade generally. Dry goods are in active request and business is being transacted on an increased scale. Groceries were rather quiet, though more was doing than for some time past. Butter is firmer. Cheese remains dull and weak. Dried fruits, canned goods and fish remain as heretofore quoted. In green vegetables considerable business is being done.

We quote the following from the Board of Trade

Wheat-Prices in local circles rule firm. Under light receipts all cash offerings in good demand. Futures show some inquiries, but the feeling in forward deliveries is dull. New York is lie firmer, Baltimore steady, and Chicago 1/4c higher.

Corn-All grades for immediate shipments are wanted at full quotations, and the meagerness of receipts have toned up prices and feeling. A good order demand is noticed. Futures in no favor. New tork 1/4c lower; Baltimore 1/41 higher, and Chicago 160 up from yesterday's quotations. Osts-Steady, with rather good feeling. Receipts

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH,

Produce Markets.

CHICAGO, April 22.- To-day's market was a "waiting" one in every sense, after a heavy closing last evening, due to a diabellef in the character of the war news. There was a sharp opening this morning, owing to a radical view that war was a happening very likely to come. This was confirmed by another great depression in consols. Prices for wheat advanced fully 11the over the closing of yesterday, with June touching 92%c, but from that point the market fell back under rather neavy offers to 90%c, rose to 91%c and receded to 91c. There was very little movement after this, but the prevailing tone was firm and the market rose once or twice close to the top prices of the morning, but in the absence of any definite foreign news there was a disinclination to force the market in either direction. Receipts continue small. The weather was favorable in the West for the growing crops, but the general tenor of the dispatches relating to the crop outlook was discouraging. There was a strong feeling during most of the afternoon session, but the market finally fell off to medium figures, closing a cent higher than yesterday. There was only a fair smount of trading in corn, with a tendency toward higher prices, the market closing 34 slc over yesterday. The receipts of oats show a falling off. and with a fair demand prices ruled firm during the day, closing somewhat higher. There was only a moderate move in provisions, with prices generally steady and firm, Flour-Firm and unchanged. Wheat-The market opened 1%@1%c higher, due to the the drop in English cousols, but under free offerings declined 116c, then with good buying rose 13c, fluctuated and closed 13c higher than yesterday. ST. LOUIS, April 22.-Whisky-Steady at $1 14. BLUE EYES INCREASE.

An Authentic Statement That Will Pique Many Maidens. Buffalo News.

Blue eyes so bright and tender have ever received the poet's passioned praise since the time when ancient Chaucer built the original lofty rhyme, and until to-day, when the frantic lover, sighing like a furnace, indites a balting sonnet to the object of his passion. Men adore blue eyes in women and women reciprocate in kind. Some one sighs for the old-fashioned girl of fifty years | by using Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic. ago, and complains that sweet eighteen of today is not comparable with the Venus who then walked the earth with sparkling orbs of liquid blue. The present generation, whose only knowledge of the female beauty of half a century sgo is derived from daguerreotypes of their grandmothers or such old-time fashion plates as have not yet fulfilled their destiny in being used to wrap small packages of tobacco, scap and candles in country stores, will be pleased to learn that instead of a decrease. there is an increase in the number of blue eyes since the days of George IV.

Speaking on this subject yesterday, an eminent Professor who has devoted a great deal of attention to the eyes gave this as his opinion: "Without having any data at hand," he said, "I would say that considering the causes to which blue eyes are attributable, there would be more of that color now than there were fifty years ago." He explained the matter scientifically thus: "I think so because the color of the eye depends on the quantity of the pigment deposited in the iris, and the amount of light the eye is called upon to absorb. Fifty years ago people were more exposed to the direct living in a state inclining to a state of nature. would have darker eyes than those living in a city, wearing glasses and remaining a great deal in their homes."

"Do you think the color of eyes attributable in any degree to climatic influences?" "Yes, the color is subject in a great degree to climatic influences and the methods of living of the people. To illustrate what I mesn by the eye absorbing light you will observe that in walking along in the snow the eye is called upon to absorb a great deal of light, but in looking on a piece of dark velvet it is the reverse. The velvet does the absorption. Blue eyes are increasing in number, I believe, not decreasing.

"There is another standpoint from which the study of eyes is interesting, and that is in relation to the indica ion they surely give of a person's character. The poet has called the eyes 'the windows of the soul,' and unquestionably they are the most eloquent features of the human countenance, reflecting all our qualities and desires, our impulses. our passions, and often our very thoughts.

"By the eyes we form our first impressions of a person's character, and it is very seldom that we change that first feeling, he it good or bad, without the strongest cause. Every trait and quality finds expression in these mirrors. Blue eyes betray two antithetic characters. Large and bright they denote quick perception and great susceptibility of external influences. In the gentler more often than in the sterner sex they are found coupled with finely arched eyebrows, in which case they indicate in men a refined nature and cesthetic tastes and in women a lovable disposition, with a predilection for dress, music and the fine arts. It is a principle generally recognized by physiogomists toat beautiful eyes betoken a corresponding . beauty of character, amiability, truthfulness, henor and devotion. "Adorers of blue eyes and light eyes generally will be not a little disappointed to learn that they signify cunning and decsitfulness, and that physiognomists advise us to beware of them. It is rather startling information, certainly, in the light of the intelligence that eyes of this color are on the

"Gray eyes are said to denote intelligence, coupled with studiousness and great mental capability, and aderned by kind feeling. Black eyes are un'athomable, and may either imply deceit and an unscrupuleusness or a noble elevation of character. "Eyes like those of any of the lower animals, for instance, will be found where the nature of the person possessing them resembles that of the spinoil in question. But withal, it is still gratifying to find that blueeyes, always most beautiful, are on the in-

Mr. A. B. Davenport, of 367 Fulton street, Brooklyn, felt that he had a new hold on life, even while approaching his "three score years and ten." The reason was that, after trying the new rheumatic remedy, Athlophoros, he found it to be a renewer of his former vigor and strength, and to enable him to move about with almost youthful activity. "I have been cautious," he writes, "for so long a time in recommending it to others till I had tried its efficacy in my own case, and I am now free to state the estimate I put upon it as the safest and most efficient. cure I have any knowledge of."
